

An aerial photograph of a coastal city, likely San Diego, showing a dense residential area with red-tiled roofs, a sandy beach crowded with people, and the ocean. In the lower right, three white fighter jets with blue and red stripes, the Blue Angels, are flying in a V-formation over the water, leaving white smoke trails.

How Does Military Investment Impact Your Community?

Data on national security investment and resulting economic activity, job opportunities, and tax revenue are now available at the county and congressional district level in California.

Read the 2020 California National Security Economic Impacts Study at militarycouncil.ca.gov